

Five Familiar Credit Card Processing Troubles for Criminal Defense Attorneys -- Which Do You Want To Overcome?

1. Desktop terminals- Requires key-entering each ‘card not present’ transaction, increasing risk of identity theft, fraud from outsiders (cleaning, pest control and other personnel who visit when you’re closed) and are an inefficient use of time. CenPOS replaces with state of the art, cloud technology that can securely encrypt and store payment data.
2. Credit card processing fees are high. Clients swipe the card on the initial visit; future payments are key-entered. Every key-entered transaction automatically downgrades to the worst non-qualified rate, often 1% or more extra per transaction. CenPOS proprietary switching technology fixes this problem automatically. Merchant savings often covers the cost of CenPOS.
3. Payment plan implementation- Is your firm stifling cash flow by processing payments based on staff efficiency schedules instead of date-based client engagement schedules? CenPOS fixes this problem with an automated scheduler- any amounts, any schedule, any payment type (ACH. /credit/ debit). Set it once and leave the rest to automation. Receipts are automatically sent via text or email.
4. Cards expired, invalid, or insufficient funds when attempting a future charge.
  - a. Clients are automatically notified of upcoming expirations to self-update. You save time.
  - b. Office managers access declines report on demand or set up automatic notifications. This data helps assess risk before extending further terms.
  - c. CenPOS automatically reprocesses on subsequent days per merchant defined rules.
5. Payment Card Industry Data Security Standards (PCI DSS) compliance concerns.
  - a. CenPOS replaces card data with random alphanumeric ‘tokens’. No one ever has access to full card data again; authorization forms use tokens not card data.
  - b. Charge expenses using tokens in a couple of clicks, saving tons of time.
